
Access to new templates on nmc?

Posted by tjdruy - 2008/02/09 12:45

Are there plans to make the timeline template available to nmc account users soon?
I could very much use that template immediately.

(p.s. We recently installed pachy locally at the LA County Museum of Art but the resulting slider pages suffer from disappearing images so have gone back to working in my NMC account. Our latest presentation, to explore the expanded and renovated lacma, is at <http://www.lacma.org/transformflash/index.html>.)

Hi Tom-

Pachyderm Services, the new subscription-based service launched last week by the NMC includes the timeline template. You may want to investigate this if you do not have your own Pachyderm installation. I believe they have special offers for NMC members.

For further information or to request an account, please visit the Pachyderm Services website at <http://pachyderm.nmc.org>.

Best,
Scott
